"One Way Ticket"

Why, oh, why are you acting this way now?
You can't tell me you don't feel anything;
Are you sure you want to say these words?
Because now you're all about your stupid king.

Love is a one way ticket;
You can't go back to where you were before;
How are you going to turn your back on me?
After all we've been through, now you're crushing my heart.

Is it worth throwing away all we've ever had?
No, I know you better than that;
I love you still so very much;
Can't you just come back to me?

Why are you letting the indigo fade?
Can't you see what you're doing to me?

Love is a one way ticket;
You can't go back to where you were before;
How are you going to turn your back on me?
After all we've been through, now you're crushing my heart.
