

Billy "Crash" Craddock "Some Such Foolishness"

Visit "Some Such Foolishness" on MotoLyrics.com

Another neon night explodes into a turquoise dawn
The Chattanooga skyline can't be much further on Lately when I'm on the road alone, I hunger for your kiss

I 'reckon I'm in love with you or some such foolishness.

I can almost see you dancing to this song on the radio
It's amazing what ones mind can do if you just let it go.

In my mind I am your hero and you're a damsel in distress.

I 'reckon I'm in love with you or some such foolishness.

When these ancient urges come searching through my flesh and bones
Oh I need to feel your body next to mine 'till the feeling's gone.
Making love and breaking promises most all my life I guess

I 'reckon I'm in love with you or some such foolishness.

Now I'm staring at the ceiling and I'm laid out on the floor.
Hoping by some miracle that you'll come walking through that door
And pour me a glass of wine and slip out of your dress

I 'reckon I'm in love with you or some such foolishness
I 'reckon I'm in love with you or some such foolishness

Visit Billy "Crash" Craddock page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.