The moon smiles with his faceless head and you're miles away
I turn to find back the words you say to feed the dreams I make Another answer tried to cope
Question still remains here
Love of a moment took my world away
Will I ever be the same?
But you see the miles just fades away
When I dream of holding you
Relieve my breath a peculiar day
When time pass us by
But we'll stay
Yes we'll stay

And I wonder as I sit alone
See leaves building up a tree
I couldn't hear what the moon whispered today
But he lives in the sky you make
I will dream of holding you
There is nothing to lean on but the stars
I hope I'll find you
Wishing the same
When the roads are long
But our love is stronger
