Cheering crowds deify their waste
Making love to their disgrace

After so much how could you not fall asleep, dream, and die
Fit for nothing dead where you lay

All the nights of broken glass drown the screaming
Choke your breath and hide to pass the time
When the wrath comes where will they turn?

All these nights of broken glass
This vision soon will pass
Soon will pass

All the way from hell to here
This is an act of vengeance
They say the end is near
Well let it start, let it start now!

It is not you who will die
Only the world that will end

It is not you who will die
Only the world that will end

So let it start
Let it!

Don't live to pay
Load up the gun
And blow them away!

Let it start now!
