Pushed around and force feed a way of life Iâ€™m not living I donâ€™t need to abide by your way, sit around and tolerate what you say or standards youâ€™ve set Closed minds bind the ties of good minds, (and) good fucking times
Its open hearts, and unclear minds that bring us to unite
Well I can look around and tell you exactly what I see Blood and sweat with friendship and heart, the most important things to me And I know this by the smiles on their face, the hearts that are looking for a better fucking place In a world where money measures success and our government isnâ€™t second guessed When truth is denied and kept from our eyes Its friendship, perseverance, optimism that keeps us alive!
I made a promise, I plan to keep intact
My life, my way, every single day Guidelines for integrity and who the fuck, are you to say I have to fit a certain way Being the person you want to be is the only satisfying way to live your life
So donâ€™t give up, donâ€™t look back
