"Static space"

Turn off everything else and
Experience something that's clean
It's impossible to feel the fall
When heaven is all that can be seen

But now I know out there
Is where everything is lost
And now I know in here
Is where everything is found

In this static space
In this static place
We can all embrace our fate
And come alive

With a static taste
And your thoughts encased
Everything is laced with grace
Immortalize

In here nothing can change
And the skies are the ground
My dreams are my savior
Cause my dreams are the background

The world will shut me down
If I don't shut it down first
My mind will shut me down
If I don't shut it down first

In this static space (repeated)

Darkness
Then Light
But nothing in between

Look up
Join my eyes become the space all around
Look down see nothing but an eternity from the ground

No where do I want to be

Than in these pleasant skies
But all I see around me
Are the diamonds and the eyes

In this static space
In my static space

If I could live
Here forever
Always feel the sunlight
Then I would never once again
See the scratches and the white

But I know
The walls will come again
Yes I know
The white will come again
