Daylight has finally reached it's end as evenfall strikes unto the sky Far away in the dark glimpsing moonlight sickening souls cry out in pain

Whispering voices, summoning screams
Waiting for Satanto bless their sins Blackhearted angels fallen from grace possessed by the search for utter darkness

Hear the cries from the Mourning Palace Fell the gloom restless spirits Hear the screams from the Mourning Palace Feel the doom haunting chants Eternal is their lives in misery Eternal is their lives in grief Abandoned in avoid of nothingness
A chain of anger, a fetter despair

In this garden of depraved beings this unsacred place of helpless ones Satan blessed the creatures inswathed them in endless night

Whipering voices, summoning screams
Waiting forSatan to bless their sins
Blackhearted angels fallen from grace
possessed by the search for utter darkeness
