

Dimness Through Infinity "When The Soul Weeps Alone..."

Wistful tears fly toward to paleness
Of fallen souls in the spectral
Land, my soul resembles the
Oblivion of forsaken sadness...
Still I crawl and still I burn
Invisible confusion
Exalts the darkness
...early dying

"So cold my frozen body
And hatred regains my eyes
While the soul dies again
And it returns to regency"

I drift between dreadful storms of

Hate dreaming in the mist of Mysticism...

And my emotional dreams
Wake me into the eternal
Turbidity with it's endless
Tragical eminence...

"Maybe in the forest full
Of inclined desires
I bosom goddess of night
But I'll born into darkness again
In the world you will forget"

My soul flies but it's enchanted dreams
Live forever...
