Every night, it's another girl
I obsess about my finest dream
But I need to feel today
Why am I driving you away?

But sure not over you

So you sit, and there's a way to be
You don't have to bottom all along
But there's things you need to be
And it all can't come from me

Every night we're drifting farther
All the love and life
Gotta count for something, right

Gotta all pull it together
Don't wanna blow it together
And lift it up and feel strange
And you will solidify a change

But sure not over you

Piece together, how we've come again
But flowed so easily before
So it's me that's flakin' out
Wish I knew what that's about

But sure not over you
But sure not over you

And every night we're drifting farther
Vibes so bad, I wanna puke
For all the love in life has
Gotta count for something right

Gotta all pull it together
Don't wanna blow it now
Lift it up and feel strange
And you will solidify a change

And it's me that's flaking out

But wish I knew what that's about
But there's so much I need to be
And it's gotta come from me

But sure not over you
But sure not over you
