I saw you down across the water
You're floating safely in the way you do
Then I scrambled before you saw me
I've gotta keep thinking you wanted to

By the shoreline, will you be fine?
Or will it cover you?
And when you taste it, will you embrace it?
What will you let it do to you?

Grab a look across the water
We grab a smile and then you're gone a while
With you it'd be across the water
When I'm losing it, I like your style

By the shoreline, will you be fine?
Or will it cover you?
And when you taste it, will you embrace it?
What will you let it do to you?

Come on, baby and drive me out of mind
And mind if I come home along with you
And see what you do

This is crazy and nothing more I want to
The sea is not the safest place to sit
And be so spacy

Scary things across the water
You'd never know till they have their way with you
You won't catch me dip in the water
However much I want to play with you

And don't stay in long
No one's that strong enough, not to crumble
Whenever the water wants you

Don't be so crazed, I'm just tryin' to save
You from losing everything you've got
This is no time to rot

Don't be fooled by all the coolness rushing by

Don't let it grab your mind
Pull out now or you will find

All you strive for
Nothing, gone, no more
You're his servant now
