Babe, the times that we have loved i thought you really got who i was, i thought you really got who i wasn't i ain't giving up on you you can go if you want you can go ill give you just one lonely night when you cant turn out the light you can call me if you like you realize

you body's the world that holds no power for me you-you couldn't mean it if you wanted too for me there's nothing you can do boy even if you're out of my world you cant get my world out of you so there's no room for something new just cuz you say that were through just cuz you say it
don't' make it true Don't make it true (repeat)

babe
we been here before wasn't me who tried to ignore that were were both half of each other now you walk away from me you can go if you want you can run we both know before you be gone but when you get near my voice and you can't knock on my door it wont take much more

you body's is the world
just cuz you say it
