"Food For Thought"

Faced with a challenge of finding right and wrong
In a brand new world that recognizes none
It's hard for me to believe in all my travels
I'm the only one the only one

Chorus:

Using food for thought and thought for food
All I have is my attitude, the hour glass, and my Ever changing mood
Faced with a challenge of doing all the novel talk Wondering how to pay for the things my mouth has bought

Wanting to say the right things whenever I talk
I changed the way I stood and the way I walked

Chorus

Bridge:

Lord help me find my way
So that I may go forward
And lead the way
Want to lose the negative but all I lose is time
There's a constant battle going on A chained heart an mind who's winning
Faced with a challenge of knowing right from wrong
Having no preference or allegiance to either one
