Last night a millions stars
Smiled down on me
Soft breeze has kissed my cheek
So tenderly
One magic night when dreams come true
Last night was made for love, but where were you?
And though the whispering breeze
Had cast a spell
It seemed the earth stood still
To late as well
No cloud could hide the moon from view
Last night was made for love, but where were you?
Were you watching that same ol moon?
In some over fellas arms?
Was he hypnotised with all your many charms
I know therell never be another time
Another magic night to make you mine
Its gone forever set the tune
Last night was made for love, but where you?
Its gone forever set the tune
Last night was made for love, but where you?
Where were you?
