In your eyes I see only one
Find me the place for us
That's where I belong

There we rise, your glory and mine
Your pain is over now
I make you shine, still believing

All the love in the world won't take me away from you
My love is stronger, Iâ€™m what you made me
All the love in the world won't take you away from me
In all my wonder I forever lay down here with you

I find when love slips away
Reach out for all you can
Before it's too late

There you fly, returning to me
Out of your darkest nights

I stand alone, still believing

All the love in the world won't take me away from you
My love is stronger, I forever lay down here with you

My love is true
All your darkest nights
I stand alone, still believing

All the love in the world won't take me away from you
My love is stronger, I forever lay down here with you
All the love in the world won't take you away from me
My love is stronger, I forever lay down here with you
All the love in the world won't take me away from you
