"Jealousy"

Jealousy, look what you've done to me
Turn my head around, destroy the love that I've found
You are the cause of all my pain
Yes, you're to blame, now he's gone

Because of plain old jealousy
You are the cause of a many a misery
Plain old jealousy that made me lose
Everything that was good for me, that jealousy

Jealousy, release your spell from me
Let me live again, enjoy my life till the end
You made me doubt what I believe
Now look straight at me, I'm all alone

Because of plain old jealousy
You are the cause of a many a misery
Plain old jealousy that made me doubt
Everything that was good for me, that jealousy

You are the cause of all my pain
Yes, you're to blame, now he's gone

Because of plain old jealousy
You are the cause of a many a misery
Plain old jealousy that made me lose
Everything that was good for me, that jealousy
