So many lovely spirits, passed my path today.
I had to stop and think, that maybe things could come,
our way.

The walls that reflect the mirror of fears, did fade.
The sleeping eye inside everything, did wake.

DID WAKE

DID WAKE

Loving, caressing, undressing.
A blessing, the tests we seek, are the answers we dream.
Just dream.

I woke up so strange.
I choked up insane.
I breath in the pain.
And release, the free.
