You talk like you're always on like you're always on your way searching under every rock finding everything in this place

you don't want it anymore
and I want it so bad
you don't ever want it all you are sometimes when I get this way when I get to be my own would you look the other way? won't forget to come back home

and I want it so bad
you don't ever need it all
you are so bad

call me over there to you call me when you're all alone I'll do anything you want anything you want me to

and I want it so bad
