Tell me now, how could I see this coming
One last kiss, before we say goodbye
I still feel you fingertips upon me
I can't think no matter how hard I try

(When the walls are falling in)
Will you even care?

Every day I have to give up trying
I am dying here without you
And every day I have to keep denying
I just can't live my life without you

I cannot live without you

Just one look, you had me fall into your every wish
You cracked this heart of stone
All my life, I had been waiting for you
Now, I'm all alone

(When the walls are falling in)
Will you even care?

Every day I have to give up trying
I am dying here without you
And every day I have to keep denying
I just can't live my life without you

I cannot live without you

Ohhohohohoh
(X4)

Every day I have to give up trying
I am dying here without you
And every day I have to keep denying
I just can't live my life without you

Without you...
