Lost and yet surrounded here
No match for present foes
We're children in a battle
Armed in only peasants' clothes

But in the dark of night
When we were sure we lost the fight
You came stumbling into sight
With tree and nail upon your might

We didn't see you coming
Even though our hearts did long
To sing out for a savior
But we didn't know the song

And marred beyond compare
To the lightness that you bear
Ring of thorns upon your hair
We all were suddenly aware

That we were saved
We were saved
Hallelujah

Thank you my King
For you saved the day

Oooo

We were saved
We were saved
Hallelujah

Thank you my King
For you saved the day, my King
You saved the day
And we were saved
