The world divides from the bitter
Sweetness that love provides.
I will redefine my place,
Within this union.
If a word, is a lie,
And the better me can show it's side.
I will try to find my way to higher ground.

[Chorus]

Ooohhh
There's a million stories
And a million ways to get there from here.
Baby I'm gonna put your skin on mine.
Be inside you all my life
And if you let your heart
Open up your mind.
There's a whole new world on the other side.
I'm gonna be your satellite,
And I'll hang over your world at night
And I can hear you sleep beneath the candle light.
I can see your dreams like they we're mine.

[Short Instrumental]

When I, I hear you scream, I hear you cry,
Makes me realise that I am only human.
The world relies on the balance between
Love and Pride.
Then I'll abandon all my pride and bring you love.

[Chorus]

Ooohh
There's a million reasons
And a million ways to get to your heart.
Baby I'm gonna make you step outside
The corners of your world and find,
That if you let your heart open up your mind
There's a whole new world on the other side.
I'm gonna be your satellite,
And I'll hang over your world at night
And I can hear you sleep beneath the candle light.

I can see your dreams like they we're mine.

[Instrumental]

Baby I'm gonna put your skin on mine.
Be inside you all my life
And if you let your heart
Open up your mind.
There's a whole new world on the other side.
I'm gonna be your satellite,
And I'll hang over your world at night
And I can hear you sleep beneath the candle light.
I can see your dreams like they we're mine.
