(Some things I gotta get off my chest, and I think that i can sing it best)

I love life because it's beautiful it's indisputable, and do you think that it'd be suitable to give you a kiss on your cherry red lips, you're in my head now you got me doing backflips my brain slips into another state of mind, i'll take you for a ride, just close the door behind sippin fine wine, holdin hands, makin plans, we're feelin fine, it feels just like the first time sublime attitude, my eyes are glued back at you relaxed mood thinkin about what we're gonna do it's all for you it always has been two kids findin time just to smile, gotcha laughin late night after dark, midnight act the part, tryin to hold back the sparks from my heart dont know about tomorrow but i know about the present, can't hold me down cause life's too pleasant yes im blessed like you wouldnt believe, i dont own too many things but i have all i need, you the best, touchmy flesh and my hearts a stampede send my brain into overdrive at maximum speed am i right or am i wrong? i couldn't speak the right words so i had to put it into song this shit flawed, but its better than most you're not my whole world but you're gettin real damn close, i never backtrack on all the words that i wrote because you make me feel high, i feel i might just float away to the stratosphere to think clear, if i disappear then you'll just have to wait right here, appear from the back with stacks so hold the track, we're not from this world, yo i told you i'd be back because your body's like whoa, and we don't gotta rush too much, we can take it real slow and have fun while we remain young, sustain the number one, rejoice our whole life's just begun life is beautiful for me, is it beautiful for you? tell me what you wanna do
