i see him standing there, my head seems un aware that my heart has tripped the amount of beats, and i see him, lookin onward, gazing at the world around his feet and i seem to understand the urgency of my head getting a hold on my heart, and i start to understand the reason why my eyes start to cry and if you love someone, let them know but dont, plz dont let your heart know brocken down inside, theres no way that we could hide wot the heart knows.....
