I wake up and my feet don't touch the ground
I look out to the mess that's all around
And now I'm bruised from all this confusion

Don't even think about it
I think I know just where you're coming from
We waited for this moment far too long
Let's keep it simple 'cause it's only love

I think we both know what we're doing here
Our true intentions ain't exactly clear
Let's keep it simple, yeah
'Cause everything, everything, everything is never enough

I went down to a friend I used to know
She said how comes you're so cynical
And I'm free from this illusion

Don't even think about it
I think I know just where you're coming from
We waited for this moment far too long
Let's keep it simple 'cause it's only love

I think we both know what we're doing here
Our true intentions ain't exactly clear
Let's keep it simple, yeah
'Cause everything, everything, everything is never
Is never enough, is never enough

And I just can't seem to help myself
I'm a fool to believe there was no one else
And I just can't seem to help myself
Yeah, 'cause everything, everything, everything is never

And I just can't seem to help myself
(Is never enough)
I'm a fool to believe there was no one else
(Is never enough)

And I just can't seem to help myself, yeah
'Cause everything, everything, everything is never
Is never enough, is never enough
