nobody's gonna tell me what to feel... me and lisa bought a motorcycle strapped my guitar next to her knapsack she's my lover, she used to be my rival and i don't want my money back what i know is i don't know when i'm sure it's only half the story what a want is a house on a hill but i'll settle for a moment of glory me and lisa going down to the ocean where the hot sand burns our barefoot skin she's puttin' on sunscreen 'cause the hole in the ozone's
the same exact size as the american sin
what i know is i don't know... one man's church is another man's jail one man's feet go where another man's fall tonight i'll throw my hands across steel nobody's gonna tell me what i feel we're on a long ride under the big sky lisa's hair is blowing through her baseball cap i'm holding on tight, gonna ride all night by dawn i'll be asleep inside her cadillac
