flawless your pure elitist cult looks so flawless now the concept of annihilation I'm a sinner without cause an aberration unbound blackness lays her wings on me the mirror lies but I stand still I hammer all the nails inside the burning chaos of my mind feel it flow feel it blow feel it rage inside your heart feel it turn feel it burn nothing's left to tear apart burn you see me burn you feel me burn beneath the rays of a colder sun burning ice and velvet rain (I know I have to die for) falling from the liar's den (get rid of all this sorrow) begging for the hands of rain (you know you have to die for) a venom leech is what I am (inside I feel so hollow) self-deceive your brain crawling in the corner of your brain impostor guess is what I am guess is what I've always been been so disgusted by this world yet I feel it crawling underneath you feed my wrath and heal my fury turn me to the beast I despise rain of glass nails of fear winds of hatred gather here cold emotions turn to dust all the shit you worship I distrust I can't have enough of burning hatred shape my wings in blood and anger I feel it flow and serves me right there's nothing left inside of me
