Why is your face down, left stuck in the ground?
'Cause somebody chose not to love you,
Does that make me worthless when they turn away?
They couldn't see how much that I love them,
It's not your fault that they couldn't see,
How much that you are worth,

I'll lay you down,
Lift your hands,
You've got a reason to live,
This is not your time,
Even though it's dark now (the sun will shine again),
This will pass in time,
And I won't forget you,
I caught you in my hand,
In my hand,

Why do you cry, cry all night?
Since when are things that you wanted,
Things that you needed?
When I have given you everything,
Every part of me,

I'll lay you down,
Lift your hands,
You've got a reason to live,
This is not your time,
Even though it's dark now (the sun will shine again),
This will pass in time,
And I won't forget you,
I caught you in my hand,

You've got a reason to live,
This is not your time,
Even though it's dark now (the sun will shine again),
This will pass in time,
And I won't forget you,
I caught you in my hand,
In my hand.
