So here's the story, a quick synopsis
I'm caught in the middle and I'm starting to like it
I'll probably ruin a friendship or two
But that's okay, this is payback for the both of you

'Cause when I fell into your lives that day
You both would pull and then push me away
And I never did have a word to say
No oh, no oh whoa

Now tell me
Why you keep running back to me when
You know you'll get your heart broken
It's the same story over and over again

Now tell me
Why you keep running back to me when
You know you'll lose your best friend
You know it hurts you but you love it, oh you love it

This is all my fault, though I did nothing
I got into your mess and I didn't quite mean to I'll probably lose a good friend or two
But I'll go on, having my fun in between you two

'Cause when I fell into your lives that day
You both would pull and then push me away
And I never did have a word to say
No oh, no oh whoa

Now tell me
Why you keep running back to me when
You know you'll get your heart broken
It's the same story over and over again

Now tell me
Why you keep running back to me when
You know you'll lose your best friend
You know it hurts you but you love it, oh you love it

Becuae I'm having the time of my life
I'm having the time of my life, at your expense

Now tell me
Why you keep running back to me when
You know you'll get your heart broken
It's the same story over and over again

Now tell me
Why you keep running back to me when
You know you'll lose your best friend
You know it hurts you but you love it, oh you love it
