the beauty's backgroun is not so pretty holidays are just as shitty pretty or ugly mark up make up
makes them crazy
lie for waste
you'd die to taste it

we are something
interupted
once something, but that was once what is twice
you turn on and off the light on and off and on and off the light and

shining in little jars running through your altar arms screaming "drive it like you stole it" what ever moves you
introduce you to yourself

in the office
in your best dress
undress yourself

[chorus]

i never wanted to be this careful in the soup spoon
i am upside down like the rest of the room and i believe that
