I thought you were alive
You're no use to anyone
The moment you arrive
All the deeds are done

I'm heading for a break
Laughter from the ground
I'm down in deepest freeze
I feel like fever now

When something goes reverse
It makes me want to puke
Before scratching my back
What was I thinking of

I thought I was you
I thought I could spend my life

For a break
From the ground
In deepest freeze
I feel like fever now

I go reverse, I want to puke
I scratch my back
I feel like fever now
I feel like fire now

What time did you see it happen
One face in a purple frame
Your crime is your radiant passion
A border around the name

Thin blue line, red light flashing
The silent rules of a lonesome game

I had to get away
I checked it more than once

I thought you were alive
You're no use to anyone
The moment you arrive

All the deeds are done

Laughter from the ground
I'm down in deepest freeze
I feel like fever now
