As an echo from the past, recognition with a blast, an unbearable hate so vast,
I will ignite the world at last Turned the key to sick, darkened mental shack, drained to fear, can't go back Racing on down the bitter track, I have become a savior in black

Only the living are lost, persisting at any cost

Universal loss will be gain, suffering in the giving, bringer of pain

Presence of lunacy clouding the sky, passion for bloodshed comes to life

Armed with intentions to kill, ancient animosity grows with a thrill

Shed my skin as I'm closing in, cleansing the world from filth and sin

The death of millions my tribute to the end, no matter what I will never repent

Assassin for the masses on a power trip, madness from inside never losing it's grip All my life they've been leading my way, mow the voices are drowned by mental decay

Time has come to unmask the dead, one by one of fire flame draped with dread Screams of sirens are cutting through the air, calling my name I'm god don't you hear
