The king and his men
stole the queen from her bed,
and bound her in her bones.
The seas be ours, and by the powers;
where we will, we'll roam.

Yo ho, haul together,
hoist the colors high.
Heive ho, thieves and beggars;
never say we die.

Now some have died, and some are alive;
and others sail on the sea.
With the keys to the cage
and the devil to pay,
we lay to the fiddler's green.

Yo ho all together,
hoist the colors high.
Heive ho, thieves and beggars;
never shall we die.

The bell has been raised
from it's watery grave,
hear it's sepulchral tone.
A call to all; pay heed the squall,
and turn your sails to home.

Yo ho, haul together,
hoist the colors high.
Heive ho, thieves and beggars;
never say we die.

Yo ho, all together,
hoist the colors high.
Heive ho, thieves and beggars;
never shall we die.

The king and his men
The seas be ours, and by the powers;

where we will; we'll roam.
