she woke me up with a bang, bang looking over cross eyed had a big hunch that the world was a big lie when I got up all the blood to my head I got so dizzy fell back to my bed I went over to the wayside looking for the high tide what will I find will I find will I find all I saw was a man that had a hat that had a pom-pom he's been there for years can someone tell me how long

[CHORUS:]

wake up to tell me
wake up to show me what I could not find

you see this woman woke me up at a quarter to three and I didn't know it then but she put a spell on me said I had to go down to where the cliffs meet the sea and meet an old man to present my plea so I headed way down to the big pier to await and confront my big fear I wheeled around behind to my blindside to find an old man with a lime and a kind eye mister, mister with your beard so long won't you be a saint and tell me just where I'm going he pointed to a conch shell and then to the lime and said this is all I really need to get by

hey mister man
I know you don't know

who you think I am
but I can safely say that I should've been sleeping the day away

I said 'scuse me, if you've got the time he shrugged his shoulders said get a spine
coconut hit me on the head jonesin' for a fig
I booked last night
I need another fix just then I see a twinkle twinkle in the old man's eye and a wave tossed bottle in thrown to the sky

I caught it on the rebound it landed with a soft sound I took out the message and put the bottle down
inside was the antidote to the spell I read it to the old man 'cause he couldn't read so well said don't worry about a thing you know your path is true just ease your mind have a banana
or two

well, goodness, goodness, woe is me the man nearly flipped to learn that he was free but just before we left and started kicking it I picked up the bottle and star sixed it kick kick, shuffle shuffle back to the beach
with a tune on my lip and my quest in reach if that woman comese to you with her song so sweet, say damn let the poor sucker sleep
