come now to the edge of the room you can see them all crowdin' around soon they'll come in and come up here let them find an effigy but they'll never find me head man I live to see you roll away they'll never ever ever find me

head man, walkig, right infront of me don't you, look in, I'm not here you see dead man told me wher I am to hide said he's waitin' there, where it's all even... you can feel them coming up through your heels outside misconstructured the search continues the hidden afraid are never betrayed by the already gound and taken away oh and in a different place the hands that hold your face are only trying only tryin' to keep you warm

hedman, walking, right in front of me don't you, look in, I'm not here you see deadman told me where I am to hide said he's waitin thre, where it's all

even...

walk on, will we, walk on with our heads to the wall let them find taht they'll never find us all hey I wanted a life less hidden they wanted a life but I'll never give them part of me...

I will save my right so hard to the ground til we lay down til we lay ourselves down
