I went over to the drug store to check my head against the bright light but she caught me from behind
And though I did not know and though I did not care
And that she had come
I could not tell that I was blind to think my world a bubble
And to think that my brother's was too
To shatter all that i knew
So I straightened up my back and I cry
Do what you must do

Take me now before I change my mind
Take me now before I lose my mind

So I headed to the deep, deep forest
To catch my earnings
My brother looked up at the sky he go
But my earnings were all up
Why have you poisoned my brother's cup
Cause the woman who came for me

And I cry don't you worry boy questions the apocalypse
Will surely show you your bliss
For she holds the answers to all your fears she
Take me now before I lose my mind

(Take me now before I change my mind
Take me now before I change my mind
Take me now before I change my mind
Take me now before I lose my mind
Take me now before I change my mind
Take me now before I lose my mind)
Take me now before I lose my mind
