Invite them the fly is you cut their wings tell them the run as you tie their fees where they will go?
ask them to sing what they can't get speak show them out of so whether never reach where they will go?

We, we hold a gun

Here comes the tune once again another great chief with another strong hand, fences and warms how can you say when you cannot stand and will be needing more from the less in your hands, fences and warms

We, we hold a gun
We, we hold it up

Fill up the rooms where there are no seas it's like them the reach in the dream ask em the sea as you shut up the light expecting what a colour when it's black and white is the protection within never beens and all the glory that reach and suspends how still we come and the dance and the sin and hold as the rooms where the silence stings and all we raise and ..up just to hold up their hands and enter them two on world and they won't, they won't understand

We, we hold a gun
