All we know is life
And after that, who can tell

Thinking about the darkside, wondering how it is
To leave the body, to find the unknown
Is there another place, or is it a lie
Just nothing but dark, and the soul do apart

All we know is life
And after that, who can tell

Solo - Lundberg

All we know is life
And after that, who can tell

When death draws near, how can we be prepared
There're no instructions what shall do
Do we get any choice to a further way of death
Once we die, then we all know...

All we know is life
And after that, who can tell
