Barefoot and pregnant-cooking his dinner obey his demands-he's the breadwinner he comes home from work and slaps her around forces her to fuck-then leaves her on the ground, life without parole in this domestic prison, since you said "i do"-your life has been hell, macho, sexist, bigot-captor of his cell never speak up-play the helpless role, do what he wants-hes swallowed your soul (chorus), macho attitudes stem from inner fears your forced to hide your emotions, never showing tears. From the way you were raised to the image on the screen, your true feelings still remain to be seen, lash out in embarrassment, your egos been deflated, end dominance before it becomes instated, break free of the chains, we want no gods or masters, no one to be enslaved by chauvenist bastards, domestic slavery-shall become the past, destroy restrictions-liberate at last might isut right-trust and honesty, love and compassion-distributed equally (chorus)
