He hits the road on monday morning monkey man wont catch him now packing peace a pre release sticky fingers licking up the grease had to take a couple down cant stand the heat

right between the eyes
running in the street
travelling in the skies got a ton of funny money waiting on another southern honey chase the wind taste the rain holding up the easy train if they go first maybe he do the same

travelling in disguise
