Stop hating this isolation, the walls are
breakingÂ...Light the fire
Stop hating this isolation, the walls are
breakingÂ...Light the fire
Whenever you agree, it won't bring you less grief
Whenever you agree, it will not set you free

Stack up the piles of hidden content
The judge and jury will stand aside
Torch the books full of their empty laws
It will show us all of their lies

Burn the banner of hope and glory
The fire of destruction will burn so bright
Escape this land of growth and mourning
While the color of anger will paint the skies

Disturbance is born on every corner
The fire of vengeance will she'd it's light
All's ablaze so the truth will be seen
The shackles burnt off, and the lies untied
