Peace fighters fill the empty halls
Preaching a truce to break the mould
Pipe bombs hit on the other side
In this madness another mother cries
God said he would save all souls
God said he would save us all
And still people die on Shankill road

No one wants to be equal
Us and them behind the wall
God said he would save all souls
And god said he would save us all
No one wants to be equal
Us and them behind the wall
Pipe bombs hit on the other side
In this country tears will never dry
Another mother cries
Another father dies
Another mother cries

No one wants to be equal
Us and them behind the wall
Pipe bombs hit on the other side
This countries tears will never dry
God said he would save all souls
God said he would save us all
And still people die on Shankill road
On Shankill road

In this country full of cries
It doesn't matter who has died
Pipe bombs hit on the other side
In this country tears will never dry
God said he would save all souls
God said he would save us all
And still people die on Shankill road
Shankill road Shankill road Shankill road
