Dream
Release me

No remnants were ever found of it
Feeling the heart vile with every fake smile
Though no evidence was ever found
It never went away completely

I tried to welcome the unholy sound of it
Another day gone, another night's drawn
Dark forces pull me underground
That never went away completely

How can I feel this empty?
I will not recover this time
This loneliness is killing me

Will I never know peace of mind again?
I don't believe it, I can't achieve it
I think I know it's just another sign
That never went away completely

Terror is coursing in me
(I can feel it inside of me, it's in diligent watch on everything)
Dreading the final moments where I have to dream and (It's a silver hold on my belief, just waiting for the moment when I)
Feel you die

In asylum, I live a lie
Don't you know I'm in love with you and I wasn't ready
For asylum, relive a lie
To let go, now it's dragging me into your grave

Your asylum, forget the lie
Overcome by the feeling
That I won't get to join you in time
For the loneliness is killing me

Death's images are all around again
They're right behind me, they're gonna find me

Judge me for my mortal sin
That have enveloped me completely

I know I'll never know a peaceful night again
Afraid they'll hear me, they don't fear me
Punishment for me of a moral crime
The debt was never paid completely

Terror is coursing in me
(I can feel it inside of me, it's in diligent watch on everything)
Dreading the final moments where I have to dream and
(It's a silver hold on my belief, just waiting for the moment when I)
Feel you die

In asylum, I live a lie
Don't you know I'm in love with you and I wasn't ready
For asylum, relive a lie
To let go, now it's dragging me into your grave

Your asylum, forget the lie
Overcome by the feeling
That I won't get to join you in time
For the loneliness is killing me

In the end there will be no suffering, more suffering
In the end you will find out everything, not anything
In the end you may question your belief, what belief?
In the end you will realize finally how you were saved

This has gone on too long
No more demonic dreams
Destroyer, come tonight
Because the memory is killing me

In asylum, I live a lie
I let go, now it's dragging me into your grave
Your asylum, relive a lie
Overcome by the feeling
That I won't get to join you in time
(When not with you)
This world is not fulfilling me

Don't make me live in asylum, I live a lie
Don't want to live in asylum, I live a lie
Don't let me live in asylum, I live a lie
