Take me away

Yeah

That's enough of all your taunting

Seems I can't remove you from my mind

Don't you know sometimes I wish

They'd kill me for wanting you

I will sit alone in silence

Gather around the meaning I can't find

Will you be defeated when

They kill me for wanting you

(Pre Chorus)

I can't believe that my sanity lies

in abandoning you

I can't recall a more helpless time

Perpetrated by you

Chorus:

Sickened

From wanting you

Frightened of finding the truth

Don't say anymore

Now my mind isn't changing

This reckoning's long overdue

Alabaster walls

Surround me

In the prison

Of my own design

Will I win my freedom

If they kill me

For wanting you

Maybe arms of hell

Will hound me

Just as long as

I remain confined

I will be completed

When they kill me

For wanting you

I can't believe

That my sanity lies

In abandoning you

I can't recall

A More helpless time

Perpetrated by you

Sickened

From wanting you

Frightened of finding the truth

Don't say anymore

Now my mind isn't changing

This reckoning's long overdue
So I have determined
That I am undone
Will I bury another problem
In the graveyard you allow me to find
So I have determined that I am no one
Will I finally cling to something
That has never been tied to erasing the memory of you
Sickened
From wanting you
Don't say anymore
Now my mind isn't changing
This reckoning's long overdue
So I have determined
that I am undone
