(Verse One)

What motivates you my friend?

I think I see your plan

To push me to the end

The end of a short rope

You push my buttons and hope

That I will lose control

(Chorus)

I cannot hear you but I know you're laughing

I cannot see you and the mocking smile that's on your face

If we ever meet there will be no doubt

That the first chance I get I'll knock that taste right out of your mouth

(Verse Two)

Is your life really that low?

That you feel the need to go

And bring me down with you

Don't have the courage to face

Your empty life is a waste

A waste of my time and space

Repeat Chorus

(Bridge)

Wasted all this time

I've watched you cross the line

Time for you to fight

Pushed me way to far this time

(Verse Three)

It shouldn't get to me

Cause I can easily see

That you mean nothing to me

You've tried to pull me in

A battle I cannot win

I will not let it begin

Repeat Chorus
