Verse one

And now I feel so cold inside me
Embracing my own emptiness
A broken mirror that shows me nothing
Scattered pieces do remain

Chorus

I'll take the time to question all you say
And focus my attention to myself
No more will I just give in
And now I'll stand up for what, sees me through

Verse 2

Now you surround me
I can't be taken
You won't bring me down again
Your light has dimmed and left you waiting
You can't escape it, it now begins

Repeat Chorus

Bridge

I'm the one who keeps you waiting
I'm the one who keeps you waiting, let it go
