I caught you looking back, I saw the weakness in your eyes
You said you'd never leave, you said our dreams would never die
I told you I was here and I would always keep you safe
You always said you thought it would be me that walks away

And another lesson learned
And another chapter closed
Another reason I don't have to miss you anymore
Another chance to live
Another chance to grow
Another way for me to move on

Screaming out your name so you will know that I'm alive
Answer me one question 'why'd you leave me here to die?'
I will find my way
This time you're too late
You pushed me away
Never knew if what we had was real or was a life
Promises were broken couldn't look me in the eye
I will find my way
This time you're too late
This time it's my way

A part of me will never wanna let you go
The other keeps reminding me of what you put me through
You took the time to tell me things won't ever be the same
But now you say you want it back, you never meant to leave

And another lesson learned
And another chapter closed
Another reason I don't have to miss you anymore
Another chance to live
Another chance to grow

Another way for me to move on

Screaming out your name so you will know that I'm alive

Answer me one question 'why'd you leave me here to die?'

I will find my way

This time you're too late

You pushed me away

Never knew if what we had was real or was a life

Promises were broken couldn't look me in the eye

I will find my way

This time you're too late

This time it's my way

And i tried to be what you wanted me to be

Was I never enough for you?

I reached out in a way you never could

Couldn't bring me back to you

Screaming out your name so you will know that I'm

Answer me one question 'why'd you leave me here to
die?'

I will find my way

This time you're too late

You pushed me away

Never knew if what we had was real or was a life

Promises were broken couldn't look me in the eye

I will find my way

This time you're too late

This time it's my way
