Earthly love won't satisfy my deepest need
My fragile cry
I'm tired of living for today
Lift my eyes to your eternity

The promise you gave is true

The heavens sing now earth will roar
I know it won't be long
Before the beauty of my God is seen
Invade my heart
Renew my mind
When all else fades
I know i'll find the beauty of my God in me

Reveal your heart and make it mine
Clear the mist that leaves me blind to your truth
God my words are not enough to convey how
I depend on your love

You break down the walls that i build
