Clarity and mystery
So much you have shown
So much more that i don't see
But my faith leads me on
Where my own mind cannot foresee

Brokenness and blessing
I have nothing
But your grace is free
You are the beginning
And the end of all i see

I am nothing without you
You lifted me and i never want to go back down again

Holiness and humanity
I feel the struggle
But you strengthen me
I will trust you
With all my heart

Though i fear you i will trust you
Keep me walking through the night
