You Say You Want Space? I'll Give You The Fucking
Galaxy!

This is tearing me up inside,
Just knowing how you feel.
When will you realize?
And when will you notice that I've died?

Space is just a subtle word for "I hate you." (I hate you!)

We could have been so right,
We should have been so wonderful.
(How could you possibly want more space?)
And I guess our love grows old,
And I made you uncomfortable.
(Yeah!)

This time, I've been pouring out my eyes.
When will you understand?
And when will you bring me back to life?

Space is just a subtle word for "I hate you." (I hate you!)

We could have been so right,
We should have been so wonderful.

(How could you possibly want more space?)
And I guess our love grows old,
And I make you uncomfortable.
(Yeah!)

We could have been so right,
We should have been so wonderful.
(How could you possibly want more space?)
And I guess our love grows old,
And I made you uncomfortable.

(Yeah...Yeah...)

We could have been so right,
We should have been so wonderful.
(How could you possibly want more space?)
And I guess our love grows old,

And I made you uncomfortable.

Woah...

(How could you possibly want more space?)

We should have been so right,

We could have been so wonderful.

(Is this enough space?)
