Breathe in
But don't you dare forget
I'm willing to bet
You'll make a scene
You'll throw a fit
But then you'll just deny it
Please wake up
I'm dying to
To get through to you
But nothing that I say seems to matter
But when it ends the same
I won't be the one left in the blame
You dim the lights to hide your face
You set the mood, it's the perfect place
You say the words, but they hold no value
It's all just an act that I hope she'll see through
You try to mask your true intentions
I hate the fact that no one mentions
It's all just a hoax, it's the oldest trick
It's so immature and it makes me sick
Somehow you've lost your integrity
You're everything that I
I never want to be a coward like your self
Are you really that
Scared or are you just plain selfish
I can see in your eyes how you want to leave
But did you really believe
That I would fall for it too
I'm so sick of you
You dim the lights to hide your face
You set the mood, it's the perfect place
You say the words, but they hold no value
It's all just an act that I hope she'll see through
You try to mask your true intentions
I hate the fact that no one mentions
It's all just a hoax, it's the oldest trick
It's so immature and it makes me sick
Somehow you've lost your integrity
You're everything that I
I never want to be quiet
But not quite shy,
Both you and I

Know sometimes it gets hard to breathe
But take a look in the mirror
And it'll get clearer
Just take it show and maybe one day they'll all believe
You dim the lights to hide your face
You set the mood, it's the perfect place
You say the words, but they hold no value
It's all just an act that I hope she'll see through
You try to mask your true intentions
I hate the fact that no one mentions
It's all just a hoax, it's the oldest trick
It's so immature and it makes me sick
Somehow you've lost your integrity
You're everything that I never want
I never want to be quiet
But not quite shy,
Both you and I
Know sometimes it gets hard to breathe
But take a look in the mirror
And it'll get clearer
Just take it show and maybe one day they'll all believe
You're everything
I never wanted to be
