Hey brother, the sky is fallin'
Hey brother, it all comes down
Soul searchin' amongst the ashes
There must be some way out of this old town

Sin sister, don't curse your neighbor
No, tellin' she might be you
(When?)
Sin-sister you're not the only
Lonely girl who's left with nothin' to lose

Saw my future in yesterday
Someone told me it won't be long
Turned my future in yesterday
Think it's time that we move on

Love's not a color
What, does it matter to you?
Love's not a color
What would ya do if I were you, would ya do it?

Hey brother, your streets are burnin'
Loose talkin' and the work's all gone
Say brother, we best be learnin'
Don't make it right doin' somebody wrong

Soul sister, I feel your sadness
Soul sister, it hurts me too
Soul sister, I can't stop thinkin'
We got to make some peace between me and you

Heaven knows not an easy thing
It's not somethin' we laugh about
Heaven knows not an easy thing
Take my hand got to hold on

Love's not a color
What, does it matter to you?
Love's not a color
What would ya do if I were you, would ya do it?

Not a color

What, does it matter to you?
Love's not a color

Open your eyes to the sky and the mountains
Learn how to fly, I can take you anywhere
Lift your voice through the sounds of silence
Yea, yea, yea

Not a color
Does it matter to you?
Not a color
Does it matter to you?
